After the resurrection the disciples were left in awe as they waited in the upper room full of questions without answers. “Fake News” about Christ was creating anxiety. Christ comes to them and says “Peace be with you.” He explains to them that this peace can never be duplicated by any drug or human being. Is it no wonder then that peace is lacking today? Why are so many people forced to “fight” for peace? What do we truly need for peace?

NEWS & EVENTS

PLEASE NOTE:

Brothers and Sisters, a gentle reminder, the sanctuary is a space of holiness and reverence. It is the house of the Lord and a gift to us from the Father – therefore it is also our home.

With that being said, please be mindful of your surroundings and ensure that you leave the sanctuary in a better state than when you found it. Please take with you any and all garbage that you may find, even if it does not belong to you. As a family, let us glorify God through the way in which we uphold the sanctuary. Thank you for your understanding and devotion to the Church.
